Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-18 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of U.S. Patent No. 6,776,638. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-19 of Patent No. 6,776,638 recite the invention substantially as claimed except for the back surface of the receptacle tab inclined at a negative angle. Regarding the particular dimensions of the angle changing from the smaller angle to the larger angle that results in a negative angle relative to an axis of rotation of the collar, to the extent that parent (US 6776628) does not specify the larger angle, at the time of the invention, variations in the distance of the angle would have been obvious minor adjustments without patentable significance. See In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955) (Where general conditions of the claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover optimal or workable ranges by routine experimentation). One skilled in the art would be motivated to change the angle in order to provide the operator with a better visual indication of the locking area prior to the visual confirmation by alignment of the index marks. Thus, the invention defined in claims 1-18 is an obvious variation of the invention defined in the patent claims 1-19.
